

Honors Discovery: M & M Book Club

Course Description:

Drs. Miles and Morrissey will join students in using a book club format to read and discuss Just Mercy by Bryan Stevenson and Citizen by Claudia Rankine. Just Mercy is a nonfiction book written by the attorney who founded the Equal Justice Initiative, an organization serving the poor and wrongly condemned in the criminal justice system. It's a fast-paced, very readable book in which Stevenson describes the experiences of these prisoners as well as his own experiences trying to help them. Although categorized as poetry, Citizen appears more like paragraphs of prose on the page and includes illustrations. It deals primarily with race and, like Just Mercy, calls attention to problems in the criminal justice system. Students will read the texts, participate in the discussions, and present a creative response to the readings.

Dates and Times:

Wednesdays from 3:30-4:45pm
beginning January 17th

Cost:

Students will pay $10 to defray the cost of the books

How to Register:

1. Visit honors.kennesaw.edu
2. Click on "Courses"
3. Select "Spring Courses"
4. Click "Honors Discoveries"

Please contact honors@kennesaw.edu or 470-578-2364
for more information on the M & M Book Club.

