

ENGL 2112/H1

This 3-credit course provides a study of world literature that explores human experience by examining diverse aesthetic and cultural perspectives from the mid-seventeenth century through the present. In this small Honors section of ENGL 2112, students will enjoy a relaxed, interactive setting in which the interchange of ideas is paramount. This course will satisfy your General Education Area C requirement.