The University Honors Program
Your Entryway to Excellence

Kennesaw State's University Honors Program offers academically talented students the opportunity for intellectual adventure beyond the average college experience, enriching their education both inside and outside the traditional classroom.

The essence of honors at Kennesaw State is personal attention, top faculty, small classes, enlightening seminars, and research opportunities—all designed to enrich your college education and prepare you for life achievements.

You can graduate as an Honors Scholar having completed most of your honors requirements through courses you are already required to take. The honors capstone project will significantly enhance your résumé and increase your competitive edge for graduate school or career positions. And you will enjoy a range of several special benefits reserved exclusively for honors students, including:

- personal advisement by honors faculty and honors staff
- access to the spacious honors lounges on both the Kennesaw and Marietta campuses
- eligibility to live in our special honors residences on both campuses
- early registration, the ticket to building your ideal schedule
- the opportunity to apply for Honors scholarships, available through a competitive selection process.
- the opportunity to apply for prestigious national and international scholarships and fellowships, with the coaching of the Honors College's Scholarship Director.
- special recognition at graduation.
- opportunities for honors study abroad experiences.

Do you seek more challenge in your college courses? Are you ready to take on the world? Does learning beyond the ordinary catch your imagination?

If your answer to these questions is yes; if you are a strong student filled with ideas; if you are longing for creative expression; and if you are ready to take on career-shaping challenges, then an Honors education at Kennesaw State University is for you.

Special Honors Opportunities

Honors Housing

Students accepted to the University Honors Program may apply in the Honors Office on either the Kennesaw or Marietta campus to live in one of KSU's honors residence halls.

On the Kennesaw campus, two buildings in the Austin Residence Complex (ARC) are exclusively for honors students. In each apartment are four bedrooms, each with its own bath; a fully equipped kitchen; a washer and dryer; and close proximity to the Austin honors lounge in Building 200.

The Marietta campus offers honors-themed community housing on the terrace level of Hornet Village 100. This unit is composed of suite-style traditional dorm rooms with community laundry and shared lounge areas. Currently, honors housing is available on the Marietta campus exclusively for first-year honors students.

In Honors-themed housing, Resident Assistants (RAs) plan social and educational activities that enable students to engage with one another as well as Honors faculty and staff. Students become part of a tight-knit community.

The Great Books Honors Cohort for First-Year Students

"An Ivy League education at a fraction of the price"

Imagine ... an opportunity to take college-level classes free from mass-produced, expensive, and uninspiring textbooks!

Imagine ... an opportunity to take college classes that focus upon the greatest, most interesting, most relevant, and most compelling books ever written!

Imagine ... an opportunity to take college classes in small, personalized seminar groups with other highly motivated students!

By reading and reflecting on the foundational works of world civilization, students at KSU may establish a solid educational basis on which to build as they progress through their college years, whatever the major. This method has withstood the test of time and continues to be used at universities such as Chicago and Columbia.

- ALL Honors Great Books faculty are Ph.D.-level professors and experts in their respective fields.
- Honors Great Books class sizes are capped at approximately 20 students.
- Completing Great Books courses accelerates a student's progress toward graduation AND satisfies a majority of the Undergraduate Honors Program's requirements.
- Participation in the Great Books Honors cohort provides a cohesive academic experience that concludes with a 4-5 week session in KSU's most popular study abroad destination: Montepulciano, Italy, the highest and most beautiful hilltop town in Tuscany.
